

ANDREW RICHMAN

99 Greensboro Road
Hanover, New Hampshire 03755
603-643-5931
www.andrewrichman.net
asichman@gmail.com

Teacher Certification

Illinois high school mathematics and social studies certificate
Illinois self contained K-9 certificate

Tutoring Experience

Self Employed Chicago, IL, Washington, DC and Hanover, NH
Mathematics Tutor
Tutor high school and elementary school students in mathematics. Have covered general elementary school concepts and high school classes from pre-algebra to calculus. Have prepared students for the SAT reasoning and subject area tests. Have developed and taught private math classes in Geometry and Algebra designed to fulfill the needs of particular students.
January 1996 - present.

Teaching Experience

Community College of Vermont White River Junction, VT
Adjunct Faculty --
Mathematics
Teaching college level mathematics including statistics..
June 2007 - present

César Chávez Public Charter School for Public Policy Washington, DC
High School
Mathematics
Teacher
Taught Integrated Mathematics II and III – 10th and 11th grade classes. Academic advisor and grade level coordinator for 10th and 11th grades. Co-taught annual 3 week interdisciplinary capstone projects.
September 2001 – June 2005.

The Edmund Burke School Washington, DC
High School
Mathematics
Teacher
Taught Algebra 1, Algebra 2, Pre-calculus and UCSMP's Functions Statistics and Trigonometry course. Students ranged from 8th through 12th grade. Junior class Grade Dean. Coached boy's middle school soccer. Organized class community building trips. Served as mentor teacher for new faculty.
September 1997 – June 2001.

Education

University of Illinois at Chicago
Completed mathematics and methods classes needed for certification in high school mathematics (included 3rd semester calculus and linear algebra).
September 1996 – June 1997.

Loyola University
M.Ed. in Curriculum and Instruction January 1996.

Harvard College
B.A. in Government June 1990 with honors.